Talking Trends on Talk TV

D et D Event Planner, Rick Rowe, appeared on Style Is Substance, (Talk TV) on January 11. He and the other guests, including Bonnie Stern, offered their predictions for 2002's food trends. Among his many delicious suggestions, Rick predicted the resurgence of classic French cuisine and a further emphasis on home-style cooking and simple fare. For catered events Rick has created many events lately reflecting these new trends. His clients have emphasized their preference for classic, straight-forward and elegant dishes.

Industry Shows and Conventions

Our gorgeous booth at the recent Wedding Show at the Civic Garden Centre proved very popular with the public. Our event coordinators and planners were pleased to offer their wedding planning expertise to those who stopped by. D et D President, Daniel Megly, recently attended an international catering convention in Las Vegas. Daniel enjoyed the convention and is eager to implement many of the exciting ideas, designs and innovations he saw into D et D's special events of the future!
